

Six Nations Rugby 2012 – Millennium Stadium, Cardiff

Wales will need to be at their best at home for the 2012 Six Nations as they face 3 tough fixtures. First up sees the visit of Scotland, who will be desperate to improve on their disappointing campaign in 2011. Wales will be looking to capitalise on the group's seemingly weakest team as they then face underdogs Italy, who will want to prove that they are anything but. The final match will be the World Cup rematch of Wales versus France.

Hospitality Venue:

One of the favourite historical hotels in Cardiff, Barceló Cardiff Angel Hotel is a beautiful Victorian landmark in the capital of Wales. Ideally located in the centre of Cardiff the hotel is in a fantastic position between the Millennium Stadium (only 200 metres away) and Cardiff Castle.

Having undergone a major revamp in the past twelve months, this hotel is once again one of the best in Cardiff and on match days this truly is the place to be.
